The invention set forth in claims 2, 5 and 6 is disclosed in document 1 cited in the international search report, and therefore lacks novelty and does not involve an inventive step. See paragraph 35 in particular.

The invention set forth in claim 15 is disclosed in document 2 cited in the international search report, and therefore lacks novelty and does not involve an inventive step. See claims 37 to 43 in particular.

The invention set forth in claims 4, 12 and 14 does not involve an inventive step in the light of documents 1 and 2. The inventions set forth in documents 1 and 2 both concern image forming devices which carry out transfer, therefore it would be easy for a person skilled in the art to combine these inventions.

The invention set forth in claims 7 to 11 does not involve an inventive step in the light of document 1 and document 4 cited in the international search report. It would be easy for a person skilled in the art to conceive of applying the feature described in document 4 (paragraphs 78 to 81), of a barcode layer, to the device set forth in document 1.

The invention set forth in claims 18 to 25 does not involve an inventive step in the light of documents 1, 2 and 4, and document 3 cited in the international search report. The inventions set forth in each of these documents relate to image forming devices which carry out transfer, therefore it would be easy for a person skilled in the art to combine these inventions.

The invention set forth in claims 16 to 26 does not involve an inventive step in the light of documents 1 to 4 and document 5 cited in the international search report. It would be easy for a person skilled in the art to employ the resin-coated paper described in document 5 to the devices and methods described in documents 1 to 4.
